

Sublime Anti-Fatigue Comfort Mats-CLOSED

How many times have you been standing in front of the sink of stove and your feet, legs, and back started hurting because you had been standing there so long? Or maybe you had worked all day and then had to come home and make supper, standing on your sore feet? I found a very comfortable solution, Sublime all purpose anti-fatigue comfort mats. It's too bad you couldn't walk on these wherever you go because it feels so good.

Benefits:

- It is made with three layers: firm upper skin layer, soft center, and the lower cushion layer
- Helps prevent lower back pain and fatigue
- Environmentally friendly: non toxic, no formaldehyde or heavy metals used in production
- Waterproof and washable: wipe clean with soap and water
- Non-slip bottom
- Anti-microbial
- Safe: exceeds safety standards for toy safety tests
- Can be used in any area of the home
- One Year Warranty
- Comes in a variety of colors: fig green, italian straw beige, pebble taupe, acorn brown, black
- Available in two patterns: basket rush and cobblestone
- Available at fine retailers and online: {ex: Bed Bath & Beyond, Amazon.com}

I received a Cobblestone Mat in the Pebble Taupe color, which matches our tile floors perfectly. I have problems with my back and my feet and ankles hurt quite a bit, so when I first stood on the mat to see how it would feel, I instantly got some relief from my sore feet. I was surprised that standing on a mat could feel good and bring relief. It made me a believer. It is super easy to keep clean and it always looks good. The only negative thing I can think of is the price, $79.99 for a 20" x 36" mat and $149.99 for a 20" x 72" mat. I would definitely recommend these to anyone--two thumbs up! Sublime also sells lunch totes, coolers, water bottles, and fitness gear.

Thanks to Sublime, ONE PERSON will WIN a Comfort Mat of their own! No color choice, sorry.
